BLOOMFIELD'S SEWAGE.

MONTECLAIR'S OUTLET COULD BE USED TO CARRY IT AWAY.

A Scheme by Which This Town Could Join with Montclair and Save Money.

The clerk of Montclair township, under the direction of the Township Committee, has written to the Sewer Committee of this town desiring to know the space that this town will require in the Montclair outlet sewer, and the extent of territory that it is proposed to drain into it.

The Montclair main could probably be utilized to carry off the sewage from about sixty per cent of the territory of this township. It could be intersected with sewers in all the streets that cross Washington Street, between the Montclair line and the Centre. The Ridge Avenue intersection could run in the sewage from the section bounded by the D. L. & W. R. R. on the north, Ridgewood Avenue on the east, the Montclair line on the west, and Washington Street on the south. The Hillside Avenue intersection could be used to carry off the sewage from the block bounded by the railway, Ridgewood, Hillside, and Washington Avenues; the Thomas Street intersection on the north end of the large block bounded by the railway, Hillside Avenue, and Washington Avenue.

On the south side of Washington Avenue an intersection at Ashland Avenue would carry off the sewage from Ridgewood Avenue south, Maolis and Linden Avenues with their intersecting streets west and south of Ashland Avenue. The Bloomfield Avenue intersection at the Centre could serve for all the territory from the Montclair line for a wide distance on both sides of the avenue, important intersections being made at Glen Ridge Avenue, Ridgewood Avenue, and Liberty Street.

The Broad Street intersection of the Montclair outlet would be another very important one, carrying the sewage from a large extent of territory.

A sewer through Spruce Street to Montgomery Street, intersecting the Montclair main at Franklin and Montgomery Streets, would also be an important intersection, carrying the sewage from a large number of streets.

It appears the Montclair outlet will be available as the main sewer of this town as well as Montclair. If such is the case the agreement about to be entered into between this town and Montclair is a very important one and a matter in which due care should be taken to conserve this town's rights in every respect. The Montclair officials are requested in the local papers of that town to publish the conditions of right to be offered by Bloomfield are too extensive and it is insinuated that Bloomfield is endeavoring to get a sewer built at the expense of Montclair. The papers are premature. Joint sewer contracts are no longer novelties. The town has made one such contract. A few points have been picked up which should be proved of service in making another one. The communication from Montclair will probably be considered at the next meeting of the Township Committee.

Knights of Pythias Elect Officers.
At the regular meeting of Eureka Lodge, No. 46, Knights of Pythias, on Tuesday evening the ranks of Esquire and Knight were conferred in a very impressive manner. The election of officers resulted as follows: C. C. William, H. Hill, V. C. Charles, T. Van Court, P. C. James Crisp, Jr.; P. C. Joseph E. Baldwin, M. of E. George W. Way, W. of F. Frederick S. Moore; K. of R. and S. Joseph Bickler; Master-at-arms, Frank C. Boucher; Representative to Grand Lodge, Charles A. Clark; Alternate, Joseph Reinheimer; Trustee for three years, John Jenkins; Auditing Committee, Solomon Harris, William Baldwin, Joseph Reinheimer. A committee was appointed to prepare a letter of condolence on the death of the wife of Brother Lyall.

Wants His Son Back.
Mr. Joseph Konkoski, whose mother died at his birth and who was given by his seventeen-year-old sister eight years ago, a family residing on upper Broad Street named Taylor, has been found by the Post at Haver, N. J. The child's mother now wants him back, and has finally demanded him from Taylor. The latter refused Konkoski's request and claims $1,525 for keeping the child for the past eight years.

Thrown From His Carriage.
Richard Harkey, father of James H. Harkey, the well-known milk-dealer, was thrown from his carriage and severely injured about the head last Sunday. His horse became frightened on the muddy road and ran away. The other occupants of the carriage were unhurt.

SANTA CLAUS.

How He Conducted Himself at Westminster Church.

We all remember how in our childhood our belief in Santa Claus was one of the strongest beliefs of our nature, and how, as the horrible discovery was afterwards made that there was no Santa Claus, that the old gentleman only existed in the imaginations of our wicked elders, who used him to cover up their own doings, life was no longer worth the living. Some of us have not gotten over that terrible feeling of disappointment even yet, and there lingers way down in our hearts somewhere the belief that there really is and always has been a Santa Claus. And so when we saw the merry old gentleman in Westminster Church on Wednesday, we felt like shouting, "We told you so; there is a Santa Claus." For Westminster Church increased the load of obligation under which this town is now staggering by inducing St. Nicholas to come to town and distribute the presents in person. Don't tell us again that there is no Santa Claus; might as well tell us there is no Westminster, and she is so much in evidence now that it would be hard indeed to make that statement go down anywhere. Our sentiments are well expressed in the words of one chubby little miss, who was overheard to say: "I know dere is a Santy Kaus; I seed him wiv my own eyes, and I heard him peak too. He tamed up out of a chimney, and then tored the chimney down, and dave everybody one of the bricks, and they were changed into tandy-boxes. And he taught me up in his arms and tised me, too."

How the old Saint was induced to depart from his custom so far as to appear in public is something of a mystery; but we learn on good authority that our genial friend L. H. Benedict had something to do with it. But Santa Claus always comes late, and so before his appearance a very pleasant programme had been prepared, and was executed very acceptably. There was singing by the choir and the school, as well as a very pretty exercise by the infant class; and a charming address was delivered to the children by Mr. Disbrow of the First Presbyterian Sunday-school. In many respects it may be called an ideal address. It consists of a series of short stories, told in language easily comprehensible by the little ones, and leading up to a good moral, and was not long enough to become wearisome.

The whole entertainment was very enjoyable, and will no doubt be pleasantly remembered by all who were there until another Christmas comes around, and Westminster, according to her usual custom, tries to do a little better than she did before.

Christmas at St. Paul's.
There were three beautiful and impressive services in St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church on Christmas Day. The church and chancel were decorated with evergreens, while the altar was embellished with bright flowers and a handsome gold memorial cross. The Christmas gift of a friend. The rector, John W. Williams, preached at the morning service. Special music was sung. Mr. D. Y. Williams, the organist and choir master, directed the choir of men and boys in an able manner. The musical programme at this service was: Processional Hymn, "Hark! the Herald Angels Sing"; Te Deum, Hutchinson; In E flat; Benedictus, Stainer; Introit, "There were Shepherds," by Vincent; Offertory, "O Zion," by Stainer; Communion Service by Gounod. In the afternoon the Sunday-school had a service of song, the choir leading. In the evening the rector again preached and an attractive programme of music was rendered: Processional Hymn, Adagio; Fideles; Magnificat, Burnett's, in F; Nunc Dimittis, Burnett's, in F; Anthem (after 3d collect), "O Zion," by Stainer; Offertory, "Hallelujah," "for unto us," etc., W. H. Monk. Recessional Hymn, "Sing Alleluia." Monk. All three services will be repeated next Sunday, New Year's Day. The services throughout were well attended.

Christmas at the German Church.
The German Presbyterian Church was filled on Monday evening at the annual Christmas festival of the Sunday-school. The entertainment consisted of stereopticon views, with singing by the Sunday-school scholars. Prof. Rowe sang a baritone solo in his usual fine form. After the tree had been lighted the gifts were distributed. Prof. Rowe has accepted an engagement to sing in opera in New York city.

A Turkey Supper.
The Hope Chapel Sunday-school enjoyed a turkey supper in the lecture-room of the First Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening. Mr. John R. Broughton, the superintendent, presided. Exercises were held in the chapel last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Gallagher Explains.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

SIR: I notice with some surprise, in your issue of December 24, in an article entitled "The Sewer Muddle," a statement credited to my friend Martin Hummel, that "Joseph D. Gallagher advised the procedure by resolution, and that Mr. Gallagher said that of the two methods open to the Committee, either by ordinance or by resolution, the latter was preferable."

I know that in this "Sewer Muddle" my partner, Dr. Richards, did not intend to reply through the press to the criticisms made upon him, and that in writing this letter I am going counter to his judgment. This I should not have done had I not been drawn into this case by the statement mentioned.

In reply to Mr. Hummel's statement, I beg leave to say that Mr. Hummel is in error, that I never advised the procedure by resolution, nor said that procedure by resolution was preferable to procedure by ordinance, nor in any way, directly or indirectly, expressed such an opinion, and for the very good reason that I never was asked the question, had never formed any opinion on the subject, and I think at that time, which was in June, 1891, had not sufficient knowledge of the subject to venture giving an opinion if asked.

What I did do was to give the Township Committee an opinion as to which of the various statutes upon the books they could proceed under in providing a system of sewage within the township of Bloomfield.

My conclusions were: First, that the law of 1884 and its supplements were repealed by the law of March 26th, 1890, which provides for submission to the people before the benefits of the act can be enjoyed by the township;

Second, that the act of March 26th, 1890, was the act under which the township must operate. This opinion was rendered on June 4th, 1891, and on June 10th I called the attention of the Sewer Committee to the act of April 14th, 1890, which is similar to the act of March 26th, but does away with the submission to the people, and said "that if that act of April 14th applied to Bloomfield, the Township Committee could go on and adopt the system of sewerage without reference to the people." I read my opinion from manuscript, the original of which I now have before me. The opinion did not deal with any question of contracts with other municipalities, which, so far as I know, were not then being considered, nor did it deal with the right to make such contracts, nor the method of making them, but solely with the law relating to a local sewage system and raising funds to establish such a system.

In the opinions expressed at that time I still believe, viz.: that the law of 1884 is repealed, and that the township is governed by one of the two laws of 1890.

Further, I would say in this matter, that throughout this whole sewer matter my partner, Dr. Richards, who was then Town Counsel, was in frequent conference with me, and I have been fully informed of his opinions before they were rendered and have agreed with all of them, except upon the question as to whether the act of 1884 was repealed. Upon that we differ and are likely to until the matter is settled by the courts. I can say therefore with great confidence, that neither Dr. Richards nor any other member of my firm ever gave the Sewer Committee or the Township Committee an opinion that the contract with Orange should be authorized by resolution. I have now before me the opinion rendered by Dr. Richards relative to this contract, and it shows plainly that the only questions submitted to him were as to the form of contract and the power of the Committee to make it. It reads, "The contract submitted by you to me relative to a main outlet sewer is technically correct. As regards the power of the township to make such contract, it is my opinion that it has such power."

But were those gentlemen right, who are seeking to shift responsibility for the action of the Township Committee in acting by resolution instead of ordinance, and were it true that Dr. Richards, or I, or both of us, had given such an opinion, we would certainly be in excellent company, if it be true, as reported, that lawyers such as Hon. John W. Taylor, Hon. F. W. Stevens, and Mr. Halsey M. Barrett, present Town Counsel, think that way, and we certainly might be pardoned for making the error into which they have fallen.

But again, were it true that in 1891 we had entertained and communicated such an opinion and had believed it, as we should have believed it to be the law, and we since that date had discovered that we were in error, the fact that we had rendered such an opinion in 1891 would not deter us for a moment from advising to-day directly the contrary, for we are not of that class who believe that consistency requires a man to per-mat in his errors after he has learned them.

But to dispose of the matter once and for all, as far as I am concerned, I repeat, that I rendered no such opinion as Mr. Hummel attributes to me and I am satisfied that no member of my firm rendered such an opinion.

Respectfully yours,
J. D. GALLAGHER.

The Bank of Montclair Follows Suit.

At the last meeting of the Township Committee Mr. Gilbert suggested that the township note that the Bloomfield National Bank had declined to discount be taken to the Bank of Montclair. Mr. Gilbert said that he had learned from James E. Owen that the bank in that town was discounting sewer notes for the Montclair Committee without hesitancy.

Township Treasurer Stout was not inclined to accept Mr. Owen as speaking for the Bank of Montclair, and intimated that it would be useless to take the note to that institution, as he did not think it would discount any more sewer notes until the legal difficulty was settled.

Mr. Gilbert said that the legal difficulty raised in Bloomfield was not considered an important one in Montclair.

Mr. Rayner said that Montclair's contract with Orange was made by the advice of John W. Taylor.

Mr. Stout declined to make the journey to Montclair. Subsequent developments have proved that he was right in his opinion as to the future attitude of the bank there. No more sewer notes will be discounted for the Montclair Township Committee until all questions of doubt about the legality of the contract with Orange are settled. A statement to that effect appeared in the Montclair Times last week, but it was said that it was incorrect, and that the Chairman of the Township Committee, Mr. Wilson, took Mr. Studer of the Times to task for publishing it. Mr. Studer, it is alleged, claimed to have copied it from the Montclair Herald. Where the Herald got it is a mystery. When the item first appeared in the Montclair papers it was probably premature, but it is now a fact.

Cyclers Again Victorious.

The Olympic was crowded on Monday afternoon by a throng of bowling enthusiasts which had assembled to witness the concluding games of the series between the Cyclers and the Amateurs. The friends of the Amateurs, whose expectations rose high, were doomed to bitter disappointment. They had hoped from the fine showing their favorites had made in the previous games that it could be considered evidence of what they were really capable of. It seemed, however, that they had forgotten how to bowl from what they did on Monday. The Cyclers were in their usual good form and with perfect ease won two successive games, thus winning the contest and the prize ball. A moderate consideration for the feelings of the members of the Amateur team is a sufficient warrant for refraining from publishing the scores of these games. It is due to the Cyclers to mention the fact that their score in the last game was 801, which is the highest yet made by any of the local teams, and the more strongly entitles them to the name of Champions.

The contest of the morning resulted in a decisive victory for the Montclair High School team over the Olympic Juniors. It is quite probable that a contest between two of the local teams will take place on the afternoon of Monday, January 2. These contests have proved very popular, and it is hoped there may be a succession of them during the winter. The following are the highest Olympic scores of the past week: Harmon & Spear 214, H. M. More 206, L. C. Haskell 205, C. Vogelius 199, L. Cossitt 197, H. H. Lake 196, Fred Cooper 193, A. A. Pearce 189.

The Cadets Entertain.

The Cadets in the lower department of the M. M. A. entertained a large number of their young friends in the gymnasium at Montclair on Friday afternoon, December 23. Bloomfield and Glen Ridge were well represented among the young people. The entertainment was under the patronage of Mrs. Halsey M. Barrett of Bloomfield and Mrs. D. P. Cruikshank and Mrs. J. MacVicar of Montclair.

Bloomfield Knights of Honor.

On next Wednesday evening, January 4th, a welcome back to Jersey, will be extended to Past Grand Dictator J. Purcell Baker, who for several years has been in North Dakota, at Excelsior Lodge of this place. The members of the lodge are earnestly requested to be present and all the members of the order are cordially invited.

Will Return in March.

Robert Furman, the colored man who was caught stealing oats from Baker A. Day's barn a few weeks ago, received a sentence of two months in the penitentiary at Caldwell.

ANNEXED TO NEWARK.

What a Great Time There Would be in Bloomfield in That Event.

Rumors that this town will shortly be annexed to the city of Newark are current and is the topic of discussion among the politicians. The Newark Board of Public Works it is said desires to extend its field of action.

The town could probably be governed more economically as a ward of the city of Newark than as an independent township. One member of the Board of Aldermen would take the place of the Township Committee. A police precinct station-house would undoubtedly be erected here and a criminal court judge appointed. A fire-engine house with an engine and truck would supplant the present Fire Department. Electric arc lights would be placed along Bloomfield Avenue. Newark Avenue would be opened to Mt. Prospect Avenue in Newark, and a street railway line run along that avenue connecting with the present line on Bloomfield Avenue at Orange Street. Asphalt pavement would be laid on Franklin Street to Newark, making a fine driveway of that street. The distinguishing names of localities, such as Glen Ridge, Fairview and Watsessing would be done away with.

While the members of the Board of Aldermen would probably be Republican, the judge of the criminal court, the police sergeant, and policemen and firemen would all be Democrats. Thomas J. Flannery would be judge of the criminal court; F. N. Unauget would be clerk of the court.

The annexation scheme is probably a Democratic move, as that party has the most to gain by it. If the referendum system is adopted by the Legislature the movement will be killed.

Glen Ridge Club's Leap Year Dance.

The Leap Year dance given in Glen Ridge Hall on Friday evening of last week was a brilliant affair. The hall was tastefully decorated with palms and ferns. About thirty-five couples were present. The patronesses were Mrs. G. Lee Stout, Mrs. James L. Walsh, Mrs. Richard Stout and Mrs. Berrian. Music was furnished by Henry Westervelt of Newark. Caterer Allen of Newark served the supper. Dancing was kept up until a late hour. Many out-of-town guests were present. Bloomfield society was well represented. Among the numerous ladies present were Miss Margaret Johnstone, who wore a costume of light blue silk; Miss Maud Thompson, white silk; Miss Janet L. Corby, Nile green silk, with pearl trimming; Miss E. King, light blue silk and pearl trimming; Miss R. Thompson, green silk; Miss May Walsh, pink silk with green velvet; Miss Jean Walsh, blue cashmere; Miss Marie Jones, yellow and black silk; Miss Estelle Lockwood, pink silk; Miss B. Ward, pink silk; Miss Helen Newton, pink silk; Miss M. Duncan, white silk; Miss Carrie Sutton, white silk; Miss Nellie Benson, white silk; Miss Josie Cook, light blue silk; Miss M. Chitterling, pink silk; Miss L. De Gress, white silk; Miss Eva De Gress, light blue silk; Miss Stoddard, yellow silk with velvet; Miss Munn, Nile green silk and green velvet; Miss Lillian Davis, white silk; Miss Cleveland, yellow silk; Miss Dora Graves, white silk; Miss A. Bates, pink silk; Miss L. Bates, white silk; Miss Agnes Clark, white silk. Among the gentlemen present were Lee Stout, Jr., D. Jones, Harry Nash, W. McDonald, H. Chandler, H. Bradley, W. Dodd, W. Ward, R. Duffield, G. Parker, C. Hart, H. Lovier, R. Johnstone, Dr. Chitterling, George Oakes, David Oakes, G. McIntosh, H. Thomas, L. Stoddard, T. Nevius, R. Moss, H. Williams, H. Benson, F. De Gress, C. Smith, and H. B. Davis.

Funeral of Mrs. Lyall.

The funeral of Mrs. Hattie F., wife of David P. Lyall, took place at the Park M. E. Church on Tuesday afternoon. The edifice was well-filled by the deceased lady's many friends. A beautiful and touching sermon was preached by the Rev. R. B. Collins, pastor of the church. The choir rendered two of Mrs. Lyall's favorite hymns, "Abide With Me" and "Asleep in Jesus." The pallbearers were Charles W. Martin, A. H. Olmstead, F. H. Carl, Jesse Taylor, George A. Zabriskie and F. H. Whitney, Trustees of the church.

Union Service.

On Sunday evening the churches of the Evangelical Union will unite in a service in the First Presbyterian Church. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Elbert Clement of Watsessing. These union meetings have been very popular in the past, and the church has been filled to its utmost capacity. Invitations to this service on New Year's day have been widely distributed and there will likely be a large attendance. Gospel Hymns No. 5 will be used.

Dorflinger's American Cut Glass is shown in every requisite for the table and in beautiful pieces for wedding and holiday gifts. Genuine pieces have trade-mark label.

LAWYERS DISAGREE.

Some Doubt as to the Correctness of Chancellor Runyon's Opinion.

The difference of opinion among lawyers over the legal points involved in the sewer contract are interesting. At the last meeting of the Town Committee Mr. Gilbert briefly summed it up as three against two, counting the Hon. John W. Taylor, ex-Judge Stevens, and Halsey M. Barrett as arrayed on the side maintaining that the procedure by resolution was correct, while ex-Chancellor Runyon and Dr. Harry E. Richards were arrayed on the other side.

Mr. Barrett admitted the correctness of the summary, unless it might be taken that Dr. Richards "counted two." The summary is not exact, as ex-Judge Stevens declines to be counted on either side. It is stated on the best authority that ex-Judge Stevens denies without reservation that he has given it as his opinion that it was proper for Bloomfield and Montclair to make the now famous sewer contract by resolution, and not by ordinance.

Considering Judge Stevens as neutral, and for purposes of fair fight counting Dr. Richards in the singular number, this leaves the lawyers arrayed two to two.

Mr. Barrett has planted his feet fairly and firmly on the side of the resolution. He stated positively at the last meeting of the Committee that he was still of the opinion that the contract made by resolution was legal. The Hon. John W. Taylor has not been heard from since the Runyon opinion was declared. The ex-Chancellor and Dr. Richards, who constitute the other side, are not at all disposed to waver.

It matters not how long, how bitter, or how expensive a contest these legal gentlemen may carry on. The public pays the bill, and as long as the public is interested and amused, no objection will probably be made to the cost.

Annual Meeting of the Baptist Church.

The annual business meeting of the First Baptist Church was held in the schoolroom on Thursday evening the 29th. The reports presented showed that the past year has been one of substantial progress and prosperity, and that in some respects it has been the best year in the history of the church. There has been a most remarkable development in the financial work of this church during the past three years, and in the year just closed all previous records have been surpassed in the amount of money raised. The total amount of money raised during 1892 was $7,839.00 of which $3,117.00 was for current expenses, $2,425.00 for the building fund, and $2,297.00 for benevolences. This is an increase of $1,689.00 over the amount raised last year. The church has also prospered in other directions, there having been a clear gain of seventeen members, making the present membership 383. Just now there is a special interest in the church. Last Sunday eleven converts were baptized by the pastor, Rev. C. A. Cook, and on Sunday morning these with several others will be given the right hand of fellowship. The Sunday-school has steadily advanced until there is now an enrollment of 350, while the Christian Endeavor and other societies are earnestly engaged in different departments of work.

Died Suddenly at Brookdale.

A middle aged man with old clothes and a smooth face entered the saloon of Frederick Koch, at the corner of Watchung Avenue and Broad Street, Brookdale, on Wednesday afternoon and complained to the proprietor of not feeling well. He was assisted to a chair to rest, and no more attention was paid to him until some Bloomfield sporting men entered the place and attempted to awake the stranger, but in vain. He had died in the chair unnoticed. No clue to his identity could be obtained. Deputy County Physician Mitchell was notified, and he ordered the body removed to Dowd & Brennan's Morgue in Orange, on Thursday morning.

The Health Inspector at Work.

Inspector W. B. Corby of the Health Board is meeting with a great deal of difficulty in getting a cesspool cleaned out on the Page property, the agent of which is W. O. Sayles. The Inspector has notified Mr. Sayles a number of times about it. Mr. Sayles has replied to the effect that he is willing to comply with the law. The Inspector is tired of writing letters and is going to bring the matter before the Health Board at its next meeting.

William R. Courter's Present.

On Wednesday afternoon Col. Edwards and two other members of the Mutual Driving Association of Newark called on William R. Courter, the popular proprietor of the American House and one of the original members of the association, and presented him with a handsome gold stop watch, valued at $350, in appreciation of the many services rendered by him to the association.
